JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS, THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 9, 1904.

SOLDIERS AND MINERS BATTLE

SIX MEN ARE SHOT DOWN BY MILITIAMEN

Engage in Fight at Dunnville, Colorado—A Second Battle Near Victor—Great Excitement Prevails in the District.

Cripple Creek, Colo., June 8.—A pitched battle at Dunnville, twelve miles north of Victor, took place at 4 o'clock between 200 deputies and guards under Adjutant General Bell and about 150 miners from the Cripple Creek district. The miners were entrenched in surrounding hills. Fifteen miners were captured and six union miners killed. The captured men include John James, charged with shooting John Davis in the riot at Victor. Among the dead was John Carley, a union miner of Cripple Creek. Great excitement prevailed in this city upon receipt of news of the battle.

As the special train bearing the deputies drew up at Dunnville union miners entrenched in the neighborhood opened fire. General Bell got his men out and stormed the entrenched position, capturing fifteen, the arms and ammunition of these men being captured. In the fierce fight which followed six union miners were killed. Their names are undecipherable at this time. At 4:50 the battle was still in progress, union miners fighting stubbornly. The miners have well entrenched positions in the hills and are shooting down at soldiers and guards at every opportunity. The surrounding country is favorable to the miners and it seems that Bell will have to take every defense separately.

Dunnville sprang into prominence last week when it was reported enormous amounts of free gold had been discovered and there was an immediate rush to the place by union men, who declared no other should be permitted in the camp. All others were barred. The camp was of mushroom growth and the thousands who encamped there the first two days dwindled away. General Bell believes the camp was nothing but a decoy and would be used by the miners as a base of operations. Dunnville is about twenty miles south of here and is said to be in Fremont county, which has not been declared by the governor to be in a state of insurrection and rebellion.

A SECOND BATTLE

Victor, Colo., June 8.—A second battle has just taken place. Seven soldiers sent on horseback to "Big Hill," two miles east of Victor, to arrest union miners, found them entrenched. The men refused to surrender and the soldiers opened fire. Over two hundred shots were fired. The miners opened fire on the soldiers as soon as they saw them coming up the hill. No one was wounded. Seven men were captured by guards and taken to Cripple Creek. Intense excitement again reigns here.

Victor, Colo., June 8.—Martial law was declared in the Cripple Creek district at two this morning by the posting of Acting Governor Haggro's proclamation at a number of places in camp. The posting was done under the direction of Adjutant General Bell, who arrived at Victor at midnight with the proclamation. Conditions in camp are quiet. Bell has assumed command of military control of the district.

The Victor Record, edited and owned by George E. Kynor, and recognized as the official organ of the Western Federation of Miners in the Cripple Creek district, published a lengthy editorial to day, urging the miners to call off the strike inaugurated ten months ago, as there is no possible hope of winning. Three more Victor city officials—Justice of the Peace Thomas, Aldermen Murphy and Tobin—have been forced to resign and Frank J. Hange, leading attorney of the Western Federation of Miners, warned to leave the district. Two hundred union members and sympathizers have been arrested by the sheriff and military since Monday. Twenty-eight of these have been deported. The remainder are imprisoned in jails.

Talk of lynching has subsided to a degree, though if the man who exploded the infernal machine in Independence should be captured it is doubtful whether all the military force could protect him.

TRIAL COMMISSION

Cripple Creek, Colo., June 8.—General Bell to day appointed a commission to try all the prisoners. The commission is composed of Mayor French of Victor, Capt. Galt Hoag of the Colorado National guard and Judge M. Gray. Bell says the prisoners will be treated fairly, that every man innocent of crimes that have been perpetrated in the district shall go free and every one guilty shall be punished. On request of the Citizens' alliance Justice of the Peace Kelly resigned.

Unionists ridicule the theory of mine operators that any significance attaches to the marked photographs of non-union miners found at Victor union headquarters. A union leader said to day that the "purpose in printing the pictures is to prevent a strike breaker assuming an alibi and securing work in a union camp. Hundreds of strike breakers have left here during the past few months and by means of photographs we have made it IMPOSSIBLE FOR THEM TO SECURE WORK IN UNION CAMPS, THOUGH MANY HAVE TRIED. THESE MARKINGS INDICATE NOTHING AND LEAST OF ALL CONSPIRACY TO MURDER."

It was reported before the special train left for Victor bearing the force under General Bell that the miners about Dunnville numbered 250 men and that it was their intention to liberate by force the inmates of the temporary bull pen. One of the captives said to night there were only twenty-one men in the camp.

When the train was a quarter of a mile from Dunnville the camp was seen to consist of one cabin and half a dozen tents. The command left the train and advanced upon the camp in skirmish order. They were greeted with a volley from the hills. Both sides engaged in shooting for ten minutes, when Bell recognized the fact that the strength of the miners had been greatly overestimated. He then divided his force into seven detachments and succeeded in cleaning up the surrounding hills. The party then returned with their prisoners.

FEELING OF FEAR

Denver, June 8.—Although the trend of opinion is that order soon will be restored in the Cripple Creek district, there is an evident feeling of fear more serious clashes may occur. This feeling is due to a persistent report which has gained circulation, but which is given little credence, that all members of labor unions, regardless of their occupation, will be asked to leave the district under paid deportation. No definite clue to the perpetrators of the outrage at Independence has developed yet.

ARREST MADE

Victor, Colo., June 8.—Chris Miller, union leader, charged with having fired the shot which started the riot at Victor Monday, has been arrested at Canon City. He will be brought here to morning.

BROKE UP MACHINERY

Victor, Colo., June 8.—Eight unknown armed men to night entered the office of the Record, broke up the machinery and ordered the employees to leave the district as quickly as possible. There is no clue at present to the identity of the men. The Record has been known as the organ of the Western Federation of Miners in this section.

MISS TAYLOR'S CASE

Washington, June 8.—The court of appeals of the District of Columbia to day affirmed the decision of the court below in refusing to compel the secretary of war by mandamus proceedings to reinstate Miss Rebecca J. Taylor as clerk in the war department. Miss Taylor admitted the authorship of a newspaper article which the defense claimed to be a severe reflection on the president of the United States. For this she was dismissed. Reinstatement was sought through the courts on the ground that Miss Taylor was removed because of her political belief and this was contrary to civil service law.

WESTERN MINERS

Denver, June 8.—The Western Federation of Miners completed the election of officers by choosing the executive board. Among its members is James Kilwan, of Terry, S. D. No election of president was held. This has the effect of continuing Meyer as president. A number of deported miners who reached Denver last night were before the convention to day and gave an account of the situation in the Cripple Creek district. Routine business completed the work of the session and the convention adjourned sine die.

HELD AS WITNESS

Effort to Have "Nan" Patterson Implicated in Young Murder Released Fails.

New York, June 8.—Justice Clark of the supreme court this afternoon dismissed the writ of habeas corpus in the case of Mrs. "Nan" Patterson, connected with the shooting of Frank T. Young, and remanded the prisoner. Mrs. Patterson is held as a witness under $5,000 bail. The case took a new turn to day when Algernon Meyer, of Jacksonville, Fla., publicly announced that he was a witness to the killing of Young. He stated Young himself held the revolver which fired the fatal shot.

YEAR OF ACTIVITY

Boston, June 8.—The report of directors of the Congressional Educational society presented at the annual meeting here designated the year as one of vigorous activity in all departments of educational work. It indicated that progress in Utah has been seriously hindered by the Mormon church. The report showed two new colleges instituted, one at Redfield, S. D., the other at Springfield, Mass.

BANDIT LEADER IS SUCCESSFUL

SULTAN WILLING TO GRANT DEMANDS

Action of Moroccan Ruler Will Expedite Release of Perdicaris and Varley—American Marines Landed.

Tangier, June 8.—The sultan's letter in reply to diplomatic representations made in regard to the kidnapping of Perdicaris and Varley arrived here this afternoon. It is said by a person in the sultan's confidence that the sultan has given orders to grant all of the conditions demanded by Rasaul, the bandit leader, in order to expedite the release of the captives.

Washington, June 8.—American marines have landed in Africa. Admiral Chadwick this afternoon cabled the navy department from Tangier that at the request of the consul general he had placed a guard at the Belgian legation.

The navy department to day received a cablegram from Admiral Chadwick stating he had been informed that Perdicaris and Varley are in need of medical assistance and the consul general has sent to Rasaul to inquire whether a surgeon will be given safe conduct. Rasaul's reply is expected to morrow.

The state department has received unofficial assurance through Gummer, who had it from the British consul at Fez, that the sultan of Morocco will accede to all of Rasaul's terms. The bandit's demand that Great Britain and the United States shall guarantee execution of the sultan's promises, however, is the sticking point and this probably can be gotten around only by acceptance of this obligation by Great Britain or France or some other country not so strongly bound as the United States by its traditions not to entangle itself in the internal affairs of other countries. It is stated positively that under no conditions can the United States government execute these guarantees.

It is stated at the state department that there are ample precedents for the employment of an American naval force for the temporary protection of the exposed interests of another power which has no available force at hand. Many of these precedents are cited. It is stated, therefore, that Chadwick in landing his marines in Africa for the first time in half a century was but meeting the requirements of international comity.

FIRE LOSSES

Chicago, June 8.—Damage estimated at $100,000 was caused by a fire which to night destroyed a seven-story building at 58 and 60 South Canal street known as Machinery hall and occupied by several firms of manufacturing machinists. The was in a district occupied absolutely by large manufacturing establishments and warehouses and for a time a great conflagration was feared. Forty fire engines were called to the scene and it was only by the hardest work that the firemen prevented the fire spreading.

PENNSYLVANIA SENATORSHIP

Philadelphia, June 8.—Conferences on the senatorial situation were held to day between Republican party leaders, but a final conclusion was not reached. Much interest was added to the situation to night when it was announced by H. C. Frick, of Pittsburgh, who arrived in the city to day, that he came here in the interest of United States Attorney General Knox.

HITT CALLS ON ROOSEVELT

Washington, June 8.—Representative Hitt of Illinois was a caller at the white house to day. Following his visit a rumor gained currency that Hitt had announced the withdrawal of his name from consideration in connection with the Republican vice presidential nomination, but it can be stated positively that the rumor was without any foundation whatever in fact.

Immediately after realizing the mistake they had made these men put out to sea and have not been seen since.

United States Consul General Miller held an inquest at Shawantatze yesterday, at which Chinese General Lu acknowledged Titzel was killed by his soldiers. Miller will forward a report to Minister Cocker at Peking, showing gross carelessness upon the part of soldiers, to say the least.

FOUND TORPEDOES

Applon, Wis., June 8.—Four railway torpedoes were found in ruins at the Fox River Paper company plant to day which would have wrecked the machines and part of the building had they not been found in time. The torpedoes were in a pocket which was about to go into a digester machine. The mill is not in the strike and the torpedoes are believed to have gotten there by accident.

JAPANESE REPULSED

IN ATTACKS ON PORT ARTHUR

Suffered Severe Loss in Attempt to Take the City—Their Position in Kwan Tung Said to Be Precarious.

London, June 8.—A dispatch to the Reuters Telegram company from St. Petersburg transmits the following from Liao Yang:

"Japanese June 6, according to Chinese reports, made several stubborn attacks on Port Arthur simultaneously by land and sea. They were repulsed with severe loss. The position of Japanese in Kwan Tung is said to be precarious.

"There are rumors from the same sources that the Vladivostok squadron has effected a junction with the Port Arthur fleet, that a naval battle took place and that the Japanese lost four large ships."

St. Petersburg, June 8, 6:15 p. m.—One of the most prominent officials of the war office told the correspondent of the Associated Press this afternoon that important news from the front was expected within three days.

Crews of the Baltic fleet have been completed. Eight thousand men and officers of naval reserves were taken from six provinces.

REPORT FROM ALEXIEFF

St. Petersburg, June 8.—Emperor Nicholas has received the following from Alexieff:

"On the night of May 26 ten torpedo boats were sent out against Japanese boats operating in Kin Chou bay. One of the torpedo boats struck rocks and sank, but her crew was saved. Camouflages among those serving naval guns at the battle of Kin Chou were Sub Lieutenant Shimanovsky missing and six sailors wounded."

LEAVING PORT ARTHUR

Chofen, June 8, 8:30 a. m.—The Chinese are leaving Port Arthur with the permission of the Russian authorities. Reports of the latest arrivals vary in minor details, but agree in a general statement that a battle has been raging four days within ten miles of Port Arthur. All Russian soldiers, it is said, have left Port Arthur for the front, and only three large ships and a number of small ones remain in the harbor. The Chinese are unable to explain what has become of the other large ships.

They further report that all the forts at Port Arthur are more or less damaged by recent bombardments and that a number of mines recently laid in the entrance to the harbor exploded during a thunderstorm.

COMMUNICATION CUT

London, June 8.—The sudden interruption of the cable between Korea and Japan is considered significant of the imminence of important operations at Port Arthur, the Japanese having taken the precaution, as usual, to cut the only means of communication with the outside world and thus enable her naval and military forces to work with absolute secrecy.

No attention is paid in London to the rumors storming of the fortress has already begun, because it is known that at the battle of Kin Chou General Oku had exhausted his ammunition and an insufficient period has elapsed during which stores of ammunition could be renewed and siege guns brought into position. It is considered likely that Togo is not averse to Port Arthur wasting ammunition in constant encounters with gunboats. This may explain the rumored bombardments, while the firing on the land side may be due to preliminary operations having for their purpose the driving in of the Russian forces.

WAR REPORTS

St. Petersburg, June 8.—Nothing is known here of various rumors that Port Arthur has fallen, but it is not considered possible at this time.

Tokio, June 8.—Four Japanese gunboats which made a close reconnaissance of Port Arthur harbor at midnight for the purpose of examining the entrance were exposed to a severe cannonade. Gunboat No. 4 was hit eight times and sustained some damage. One of her sailors was killed and two others wounded.

London, June 8.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Post-Telegraphs under date of June 8:

"General Stakelberg's Russian brigade marching in the direction of Port Arthur suffered a reverse Saturday near Wafang-tien and retired to Tashichiao."

A DOUBLE MURDER

Crookston, Minn., June 8.—News of a double murder was received here to night and warrants issued for those supposed to have committed the crime. N. O. Drake and daughter, aged 18, disappeared April 5 from Quiring. Investigation is said to have established the fact that they were murdered and their bodies hidden. KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS

Factional Fight in State Convention—Finally Agree on Compromise Platform.

Louisville, June 8.—The Democratic state convention was called to order this afternoon by State Chairman Young, who made a speech bitterly arraigning Governor Beckham's administration. He denounced the governor's course in the present campaign as calculated to disrupt the party. Young was alternately cheered and hissed.

The result of the first struggle, election of temporary chairman, was a decisive victory for the administration forces, led by Governor Beckham, who was elected temporary chairman by a vote of 87 to 72. The fight against the administration was led by Senator Blackburn. Committee were completed and recess taken until this evening.

Only one district, the fifth, declared for Parker. Of twenty delegates named at other district meetings three are regarded as possible Hearst men, six Parker and eleven declared to express preference.

There was a short but spirited debate in the committee on resolutions over the platform. Five members demanding reaffirmation of the Kansas City platform. A compromise was reached which declares the Democratic party in Kentucky "re-affirms its faith in and adherence to the great and fundamental principles of Democracy as expounded by Jefferson, exemplified by Jackson and ably defended by Bryan."

The resolutions condemn the Republican national administration and the so-called "unnecessary and unjust system of federal taxation maintained by the Republican administration" and demand a revision of the tariff in a conservative spirit. The increase of expenditures of the federal government under Republican rule is condemned and what is termed "the encroachments by the president upon the constitution" are denounced.

At 1:30 this (Thursday) morning the convention is discussing two reports on permanent organization and prospects are good for an all-night session. The majority report recommended Senators Blackburn and McCreary, Governor Beckham and Congressman James delegates-at-large to the national convention and Lewis McQueen chairman of the state committee. The minority, while concerning as to delegates-at-large, called for the election of Congressman Kehoe as chairman.

MAJORITY REPORT

The majority report was adopted. A heated discussion followed the introduction of a resolution endorsing Parker for president. The convention by a vote of nearly 3 to 1 declined to consider the resolution.

AT 1:15 THE CONVENTION ADJOURNED

TRAIN ROBBERY IN COLORADO

HOLDUP ON DENVER & RIO GRANDE GRANDE

Express Car Wrecked With Dynamite—Robbers Forced to Flee Before Securing all Valuables in the Car.

Denver, June 8.—A Denver & Rio Grande passenger train west bound was held up by five masked men three miles west of Parachute, a small station midway between Grand Junction and Glenwood Springs. One loaded bag containing specie was taken from the express safe, which was dynamited. The express car was badly wrecked, but the robbers were forced to take to the mountains before they could gather up the valuables in the car. Two posies are scouring the surrounding country for the bandits.

When the train reached the scene of this holdup two robbers crawled over the tender, placed revolvers at the heads of the engineer and fireman and forced them to stop the train. The engine, express and baggage cars were uncoupled from the coaches and run two miles west. Express Messenger Shea refused to open the door. The robbers blew it open with a stick of dynamite and with more of that explosive wrecked the through safe. Just then brakeman Shellenberger, who had been ordered to remain with the coaches, came running up. One of the robbers shot him in the leg. When the bandits saw other trainmen approaching they fled to the mountains. The train came back to Parachute, where an alarm was given.

Denver, June 8.—It is now stated the bandits who held up the express car on the Denver & Rio Grande last night secured only $10. The bandits have been trailed as far as Rifle.

COMMENCEMENT

SEVENTY-FIFTH YEAR COMPLETED BY ILLINOIS COLLEGE

Orations, Music, Alumni Meeting and Dinner, Features of the Day.

Assembled under the noble trees on the college campus, an interested audience enjoyed the seventy-fifth commencement exercises of Illinois college Wednesday morning. The day was all that could be desired and the surroundings were inspiring. Many memories clustered about the place and the influence of the giants of other days was visible. Jeffries' orchestra supplied excellent music, which was the first number on the program, and then came the procession, the graduating class, college alumni, faculty, trustees, president and guests of honor. Rev. F. S. Hayden, D. D., pronounced an eloquent invocation and after music.

EVERT D. MARTIN gave the salutatory address, with "College Responsibility" as his theme. Only a very brief mention of any of the orations is attempted.

"Our friends have assembled to celebrate the closing of another college year. The graduates of to day are only at the threshold of life's duties and responsibilities. The day is not merely an evidence that some persons have completed the course. There is something grand and heroic in the history of this college. Seventy-five years ago it began its magnificent work and it has ever held for that which makes for a higher and nobler life, and he who has not a proper appreciation of this is unworthy to share the benefits of the institution, which, for the student, are invaluable. Many new departures have been noted in opinions and methods of study. The ideas and opinions which prevailed a few years ago have been largely set aside and instead of the firm religious convictions, which were for sturdy manhood, we have doubts and skepticism. The Bible is excluded from the public schools lest some one may be offended by the teachings of Him who made all things. When the thoughtful men of the world will show that faith is the most reasonable then will all this be changed. New ways of living now prevail and financial success is regarded as the greatest good. While the foundations of the future are built on things the perish, inferior literature and music have replaced the better things of the past; coarse amusements occupy the public attention to the detriment of the people. We welcome you here to day in the name of the great principles for which the college stands."

ARTHUR F. EWERT spoke on the "Problem of Organized Labor." "By stages all too rapid labor has become degraded and crushed. The history of the world is replete with the woes of the toiler. By labor the wealth of the world has been gained and greater enterprises made possible, and the life blood of the workman has been given to the cause. In our nation's wars the sturdy laborer has been the one to offer his all on the altar of his country. Labor has given the world her greatest sons. From the depths of obscurity have sprung the mightiest spirits of the world; statesmen, poets, artists, generals, business men, all have come from the ranks of the lowly. Labor presents a problem freighted with peril. It has gathered its forces to resist the encroachments of capital, and terrible conflicts have ensued. Illegal trusts and combines of rich men have opposed labor and the workmen have been incited to deeds of violence and the same acts as those perpetrated by the employer. Strikes have cost $300,000,000 and the end is not yet. Labor has unfortunately been led by unwise men who have endangered its welfare and threaten its best interests. In the terrible scenes in the French commune but 2 per cent of the people were in favor of such deeds, but evil counsels prevailed. The walking delegate and demagogue have been labor's worst foes. To day the forces of labor are divided and their future is dark. Organized labor is willing that only those wearing the union badge are born free and equal, and by hunger and want would they coerce into submission the would be independent and work for a living. We do not denounce organized labor rightly used, but when it resorts to violence it must be defeated. It has denounced the militia, the only force possible to maintain peace, and thus lights the torch of anarchy which may destroy the land. We admit the right of labor to organize on right principles. Labor and capital may contend and plunge the country in ruin and the cause of liberty set back a thousand years, but there is a higher power in which we trust and in whose hands we place our destiny."

The next speaker, CHARLES M. EAMES, had for his theme the "Awakening of China."

"The eyes of the world are centered on the far east and the problem of China is the greatest and unsolvable. Nations are struggling for control of far off lands and the present commotions have aroused the sleeping giant, and when the empire is aroused, let the world beware. We think of China as a land of chopsticks and rice, and judge it by the coolies imported to this country, forgetting her great advancement many centuries ago. China's resources are enormous. Coal, metals and other treasures abound there; one-fourth of the world's population is hers. The Chinaman has traits that are notable. Industry, business ability, adaptability to climate, strength and other gifts all make him strong, but he yet lacks many things and needs help. Her helplessness has compelled her to endure hardships and humiliation, and had it not been for the United States she might have been torn asunder by the cruel dogs of Europe. But many signs of encouragement are visible. Education of young men, toleration of new ideas and other evidences of progress are apparent. She looks to this country for the things she most needs, industrially, educationally and morally. More than all else she thirsts for a religious life, which only Christianity can give her. It is making progress in that direction, but has not gone far. To us she looks for aid and may we give out best for the saving of a brother."

MELVILLE T. KENNEDY spoke on "John B. Gordon." "Soon the great civil war will be regarded as a thing of the past. Animosities have softened and the whole nation mourns at the bier of a confederate general. General Gordon's lasting fame will rest on his military career. He had not a West Point training and rose from the rank of an unskilled captain to the high position of major general at the age of 33. From the first his genius was apparent and the most difficult duties were assigned him. He it was who led desperate charges and with undaunted spirit led his hosts on terrific enterprises. His men fought to the last and he was their idol and adored only next to General Lee. He was a Georgian to the manner born; his was a military spirit, and he might easily have graced any position in the land. Two years ago I attended a confederate reunion, and when I saw the love the gray haired veterans showed him I could see how he was able to do such great things on the field. Though his fame rests mainly on his military career, he served his state capably as senator and governor, and all his duties were performed with great rectitude. During the sad days of reconstruction he tried to see the bright side and has ever urged his people to forget their animosities and great praise is due him for what he has done. As a lecturer he was a great success and he was much in demand, and the innate nobility of his character was the secret of his success, and the look he has left of his reminiscences well portrays his character; patriot, general, nobleman and no finer model could be found than the life of John B. Gordon."

The valedictorian, LAWRENCE N. WYLER, had for his theme, "Our Political Ethics."

"It is said that the political standards in the United States are higher than those of England. Yet, here they are not what they should be. Various standards have prevailed at different times. True courage is necessary; we cannot have social order without force to maintain it; yet we need something more. The true citizen can best serve his state, not by fighting, but by submitting his cause to the true legal tribunal. We have rapidly advanced from the frontier to the present advanced position we occupy. Rapid advancement is being made in our social life and more altruism prevails, but changed business conditions demand attention. Trusts have taken the place of competition and a new system of ethics has become a necessity. Legal means will be unable to effect a reform without commercial morality. Our representative assemblies have become political arenas where the boss is triumphant. Until there is a fundamental change in the public conscience and code of political ethics laws will accomplish but little. Still we may look to the future with confidence and hope for better things." The words of tender farewell which followed, came from the heart of the speaker. He paid the faculty a glowing tribute of esteem and urged unflinching loyalty on the part of the student body toward the college and the people who had graced the occasion by their presence were tendered thanks for all their kindness and the hope was expressed that they would remain true friends of the institution.

Rev. F. S. Hayden, D. D., then presented to the president the candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

William T. Capps was awarded restoration to the class of 1893 and received the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

J. S. McClung, of Pueblo, superintendent of schools, at one time a student in the college, enlisting in 1861 and serving his country four years, was restored as member of the class of 1863 and made Bachelor of Arts.

PRESIDENT BARNES then delivered his address:

"The friends of Illinois college can look back upon the year of its history which is just drawing to a close with a sense of great satisfaction. A spirit of good will and loyalty has strongly prevailed among the faculty and the students with but few exceptions have done faithful work in the class room and given hearty support to the social and athletic life of the college. It has been often and truly remarked that the class spirit of the past year has been noteworthy both by reason of its strength and wholesome character. The experiment of admitting women to all the privileges of the collegiate and preparatory departments has proved a decided success. Not only has our attendance been increased by this means, but there has been manifest a higher standard in recitations and in general deportment throughout the school. On no account has there been the slightest reason to regret the change which introduced coeducation. The alumnae of the Jacksonville Female academy, who have watched this venture with almost jealous eye, have given it the official endorsement of their association in the following words: "Where many other institutions have failed utterly on the experiment of coeducation ours has made a phenomenal success. The intercourse of young people on the hill has been dignified, cordial and pleasant."

"The seniors in their new and praiseworthy edition of the Rig Veda have well voiced the student sentiment in regard to this matter. They dedicate their volume in these words: 'To the Illinois girl in heartiest welcome and with the sincere hope that, rich as the glorious past has been, the future may be still richer through her presence.' Later on they say, 'The prophecy of pessimists that coeducation would kill college spirit has proved false. On the contrary it has revived it. The athletic spirit, the literary spirit and the college spirit in general was never better; and again: "Whereas a few years ago Illinois college was tottering on the edge of the grave, now she is teeming with renewed youth and strength and vigor."

"The annual increase in the number of new students who entered last year is a most gratifying comment. I think the record is published in our catalogue. I am glad to hear and so am I of the many who have dropped during the year."

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1901.—For twelve years I have suffered from sweet diabetes and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with but little benefit. I was recommended to try a bottle of Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, and will cheerfully testify to the public that it did me more good than all things else put together and am altogether convinced that I have persuaded many of my friends to try it.

APPOINTED CHOIR LEADER.

The Sterling Standard of recent date speaks in very flattering terms of the musical ability of Mrs. Josie W. Johnson, of that city. Mrs. Johnson was formerly Miss Jessica Sharpe of this city. She has recently been appointed leader of the choir of Grace Episcopal church at Sterling, and the Standard, in commenting on the fact, says:

"Mrs. Johnson is a vocalist of more than ordinary ability and is very well instructed in all departments of voice culture. She has graduated from several of the leading musical colleges of Chicago and is recognized as being one of the best vocalists of this city. That she has assumed the leadership of the choir assures the members of that church that they will have first class music all the time."

The possibilities of how big a trained animal show may be has been absolutely designated by the consolidation of Gentry Bros' famous shows for this traveling season. For almost two score years Gentry Bros' several shows have been traveling as distinct exhibitions. This season the shows have been consolidated and will exhibit all their numerous attractions under one canvas for a single admission. During the many years that success has greeted Gentry Bros' exhibitions they have kept a carefully compiled list of the cities and towns where their various shows were the most liberally patronized. This city has proven to be one of their banner towns, consequently, in laying out the itinerary of the consolidated shows, a date of exhibition has been ordered to our city and the little folks can prepare for a holiday on that date when Gentry Bros' famous shows united will exhibit in Jacksonville, Monday, June 13.

OBITUARY.

Died, in Parsons, Kans., May 30, 1901, John Markers, aged 76 years, 3 months and 23 days. The deceased was an early settler of Morgan county, coming here in the 18's, and followed his trade as wagon maker at Alexander until the year 1875, when he moved with his family to Parsons, Kans., where he since lived. He was a subscriber to the Weekly Journal in its infancy, and was up to his death a loyal and staunch friend to its principles. He will be remembered by a great many of the oldest citizens of the city of Jacksonville and surrounding country, as well as by old friends and neighbors at Alexander.

ALUMNI MEETING

Illinois College Grads Held Most Successful Reunion at College Gymnasium Wednesday Evening—Important Steps Taken.

One of the most enthusiastic gatherings of the alumni of Illinois college that ever took place was held at the gymnasium hall on the college campus Wednesday evening. The attendance was large and a movement was inaugurated that promises to widen materially the field of usefulness of the Alumni society.

By unanimous vote it was decided to raise an alumni fund and a committee of five trustees was appointed to raise the fund and be the custodians of the fund until the next meeting of the Alumni society. A ringing endorsement of President Barnes and his administration was given in the form of a resolution, which was passed by a unanimous vote.

The members met at the gymnasium at 6:30 o'clock and after a splendid supper had been served by Vickery & Merrigan, the business of the society was transacted.

President Edward P. Kirby presided and Horace H. Bancroft read the minutes of the last regular and special meetings.

J. P. Lippincott reported for the committee on alumni trustee which showed the election of H. H. Bancroft.

The election of officers followed, resulting in the selection of Edward P. Kirby, president; A. T. Capps, vice president; and H. H. Bancroft, secretary-treasurer.

On motion of Rev. Thomas Smith, the following were appointed trustees of the alumni fund: W. D. Wood, of Jacksonville, chairman; Judge Carl Epler, of Quincy; Hugh M. Wilson, of Chicago; Frank Irving of Decatur, and L. S. Doane, of Jacksonville.

The society then welcomed to the ranks of the alumni the class of 1904. After appropriate words of welcome by President Kirby, L. N. Wylder, in behalf of the class, made a brief response.

This inaugurated the speech making of the evening and stirring talks were made by C. W. Ufford, of Birmingham, Ala.; A. O. Lindsay, of Birmingham, Ala.; Rev. Thomas Smith, of New York city; George H. Wilson, of Quincy; Hugh Wilson, of Chicago, and a letter of regret was read from Judge J. T. C. Fagg, of Louisiana, Mo., of the class of 1842, who had expected to be present, but had been prevented at the last moment from coming.

The meeting then adjourned with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

ALUMNI DAY AT THE BLIND

Biennial Election of Officers—Alumni Concert Last Evening Well Attended—Will Meet Again to Day.

Wednesday was alumni day at the Blind. Many of the former students arrived Tuesday to attend the commencement and more came in later, until the number made an excellent showing. All are very glad to be back again and are still enthusiastic about the school, where they formerly spent so many happy days. Numerous hearty greetings of friends long parted occurred, and the week will long be remembered as one of the most felicitous in the history of the school.

The biennial business meeting of the Alumni association was held at the institution Wednesday. Officers for the ensuing two years were elected as follows:

President—E. E. Sams, Miles Station.

Vice president—Miss Huldah T. Peters, Lincoln.

Secretary—Arthur Jewell, Jacksonville.

Treasurer—Henry Hokamp, Pittsfield.

There were present forty-four members of the association.

The alumni will meet in the chapel again this morning at 10 o'clock. Addresses will be made by Superintendent Freeman and E. E. Sams, president of the association, who will speak of "The Problem."

ALUMNI CONCERT.

A large audience gathered Wednesday evening to hear the annual alumni concert of the Blind. The musical numbers were of the same high order usually heard at that institution. Too high praise can not be conferred on the instructors who have in the past given their time and efforts to the advancement of the graduates. The selections last evening were especially good, showing hard and faithful practice coupled with true musical ability.

The work of these artists is simply wonderful, their work having a delicacy of finish and perfect technique. Each selection received hearty and continued applause from the audience and many of the performers responded with pleasing encores. After the concert Prof. Arthur Jewell and the performers received many gracious congratulations from their friends. These gatherings of the alumni, which occur every two years, have become memorable events in the lives of the graduates.

All the selections were of such merit that space prevents separate mention. The program was as follows:

RECITAL OF MISS MARIE ANDERSON

The many friends of Miss Marie Anderson heard with pleasure the recital given by her Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Lulu D. Hay. She is a pupil of Miss Hay's and the exceptional ability displayed in her work and especially in the difficult numbers on her program gave evidence of the thorough and advanced methods imparted by her instructor. She is possessed of musical talent of unusual character and in all her work there is evidence of an artistic conception of every part. She plays with confidence and ease and all her difficult numbers were played from memory. She was assisted by Miss Louise Huffaker, whose ability as a vocalist has won for her many compliments on former occasions. Miss Hay was assisted in receiving her guests by Misses Anderson, Huffaker and Owen. The program:

LEDFERD'S

WHY HE DIDN'T

He was a newspaper man and a poet. Still the combination worked very well. The only trouble was that his work rather knocked the bloom off the romance of life. He found it difficult to be romantic after chasing around after the stern realities, the tragedies and comedies of this mortal existence for sixteen hours a day, but he managed to retain something of the dreamer about him notwithstanding. He lived in love. Somewhere on this mundane sphere there existed a woman whom he should one day meet and love and be happy with her forever after.

She was to be his affinity, his twin soul, and they should know it the moment their hands touched. Naturally it was all rather hazy in his mind as yet, for he did not have much time for dreaming. Newspaper work on a lively daily and dreaming were not compatible, and as the daily bread, also cigars, depended upon the newspaper the dreaming was neglected.

He had also a rooted opinion that he should one day commit suicide. He often said as much to his chum Jim, who always looked cynical and fell to whistling softly with a faraway look in his eyes. He would talk about it quite seriously and discuss the different methods, but his preference was for the revolver route. When he got tired of living or things went wrong, he intended to try it, he said, and kept a revolver handy.

And so one spring day he fell in love. It was all in one moment. He was at his desk writing away like mad when the door opened, and she came in—a little, blue eyed, fair haired, childish thing, with Cupid's bow lips and a frightened manner. He looked up impatiently, and their eyes met.

They neither knew afterward what they said, but five minutes later he was at his desk, she was gone, and between his eyes and the paper was a fair, childish face, with Cupid's bow lips and blue, frightened eyes.

Before two days he met her on the street. Their eyes met again, and they both spoke. Then he walked home with her and carried her schoolbooks, and all the world was suddenly fair and sweet as a rose garden in June. She understood his every word, and he—well, he lived in a world of his own. He walked in a dream. The real things of life—the murders, marriages, divorces, even the men and women he met—seemed a faroff dream, and only Daisy and himself real people. He was in love and for the first time.

Her mother soon became aware of the state of affairs and decided Daisy was much too young for love or lovers. Her father told him so, and also that he and Daisy must see each other no more except as acquaintances. There was nothing against him—they were simply too young. And so she was to go to school, but Gordon could call to say goodby.

That night he went to see her and came away filled with wonderful schemes for the future. He was to become rich and famous, and when she came back he would marry her. That was his plan, and from that day he worked as he had never dreamed it possible that he could work. Before he worked because a certain amount of work was necessary to keep him from going to bed, but now he had an object for which to work, and he threw his whole soul into it. It was for Daisy, and that thought kept him going. For two years it was constantly with him.

She was to be home in June, but went to visit friends and wrote him that it would be the 1st of July, and her dear friend, Bessie Thornton, was to come with her.

It was evening when she would arrive, and he started to the station to meet her. Instead a telegram met him. Daisy had been married that morning. She was not coming at all. The lights in the streets danced up and down, and he repeated it softly, "Daisy married."

His hand went mechanically to his pistol pocket. Only one idea was left in his stunned brain, and that was to carry out his old time morbid fancy and put an end to the existence that he now concluded was not worth living. He did not take time to argue the pros and cons, but felt a slight sense of disappointment when he remembered he had left his revolver at the office. It would not take long to go for it, he thought dreamily, and glanced at the telegram in his hand. "Daisy married." It must be a dream. The train came in, the train Daisy was to have come on.

The moments were like hours, yet he did not hurry. It was not for the office. "Daisy married." One finger on the trigger, and then—

There was a touch on his hand, timid and soft. He glanced down and for an instant did not see who it was. Then he knew—it was Bessie Thornton, Daisy's friend. There were tears in her eyes, and he read pity—and was there something else?—in her soft brown eyes. Neither spoke, but neither felt the need of it. Once again he was looking into the awakening soul of a woman. A sudden light sprang into her brown eyes. Unconsciously their hands met, and they turned and walked together.

Next day his friend Jim received the revolver as a gracious gift.—Clarie Lee Isabelle in Cincinnati Post.

I suffered for months with nervous prostration, sick headache and kidney and bladder trouble. After holding consultation, four doctors said I could not live without an operation, and I was too weak to have one. Bunches formed in my bowels and I became so sore that I lost the use of my limbs. The doctor called the bunches tumors. He said that I also had a floating kidney, and would not be any better until I had it sewed in place. The SPORTING WORLD

Baseball at Yale.

When Yale's baseball team met with its unexpected and rather ignominious defeat in the ninth inning of the third and decisive championship game with Princeton at the Polo grounds, New York, last June, there was one thing that Burney Winslow, the captain and catcher of the New Haven nine, begged for. That was his re-election as captain for the season of 1904 in order that he might personally participate in the revenge that he, snarling under defeat, so eagerly craved.

With the ending of the college season with the Harvard games Yale's beaten but not discouraged diamond warriors expressed their confidence in their captain in the face of the disaster that had overwhelmed the nine by giving him the re-election he sought. And that is why, with the memories of last year's defeats ranking in his mind, Winslow is working as he never worked before to whip into shape a Yale baseball team that will wipe out those disasters with victories over both Princeton and Harvard.

Walter F. Carter has been at New Haven sorting out the battery candidates and is one of Winslow's principal advisers. Keator, Greenway, Deall, Redington and Case are other prominent graduate players who journey to New Haven from time to time to help Coach Murphy get the team into shape for the important battles.

The Orion Strain of Trotting Blood.

Orloff trotters in this country have been distinguished for size and beauty rather than speed, but in Russia the speed powers have steadily increased through the inbreeding with the standard and bred exportations from this country, and the smooth conformation is retained. An instance is that the important St. Petersburg prize for trotters decided at the Russian capital on Jan. 31 was won by Baron S., by the American bred Nominee, 2:17, dam Soperitza, an Orloff. The gross value was about $12,500, and the distance, just short of two miles, was trotted in 4:41. W. B. D. Stokes has tried the cross in this country with fair results.

Kitchen Tables.

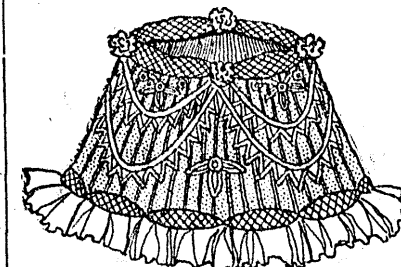

A zinc covered table is a convenience in the kitchen, as hot things can be set directly on it, and it is easy to keep clean. Pine top tables look spick and span when they are scrubbed carefully, but that means a constant expenditure of strength and time. Tables with hardwood tops covered with kitchen oilcloth save a great deal of time and labor.

Sickroom Precautions.

When there is contagious disease in a house all the linen which has been used by the sick person, or which has even been in his room, ought to be thoroughly disinfected before being sent to the wash, otherwise there is great danger of the illness being carried to others. It should be wrung out in a solution of carbolic acid and water.

Dainty Lamp Shade.

When the lamp is lighted at night, the lamp shade becomes a very conspicuous object, and for that reason it should be a pretty affair that will reflect credit upon the taste of the household. Lamp shades need not be expensive to be artistic. They may be beautiful and cost but a trifle, comparatively speaking. The one shown in the illustration may be made of materials which in other ways have outlived their usefulness and are lying idle in bureau drawers. To make this shade buy a simple paper design ready made and cover with soft green, yellow, scarlet or violet silk, finishing with puffs if extra elaboration is wanted. Trace designs with narrow ribbon, as shown in the picture. But the ribbon design is not necessary to a charming effect, which is easy to attain.

COMMENCEMENT NAUTILUS.

The commencement number of the Nautilus, the high school paper, has been completed. It is handsomely illustrated and is a credit to the school. Doubtless it is the peer of any magazine published in the state. It contains thirty-two pages of reading matter and is printed on heavy glazed paper. The cover is printed in red and white, showing the outline of the sweet girl graduate. The following half-tones enliven the pages: E. E. Webster, faculty, graduating class, orchestra, dramatic club, five of various parts of the recent play, manual training room, domestic science room, editorial staff, debating team, Treble Clef club, Glee club, track team, basketball team, football team, zoology laboratory, physics laboratory, Harold Graves and Miss Alice Goodrick. The articles are well written and interesting.

LIBERTY BELL

Historic Bell on View at Capital City Tuesday Night.

Springfield News: The famous liberty bell, dear to every American, has come and gone and thousands saw it, though it was late in coming. Quiet and silent, it received the cheering and the ovation of the school children and the citizens of Springfield as the train bearing it slowly steamed up beside the Chicago & Alton station Tuesday night. The train was due at 7 o'clock, but an hour earlier hundreds of people had gathered on the platform, and they were destined for a long wait, for it was 10:30 before the train arrived. All these hours the crowd waited patiently, only a few leaving. When the word came over the wires that the train would not arrive until 8:30, Mayor Devereux decided to pen the exercises, which had been arranged for the momentous occasion. After the singing of America by the school children, Mayor Devereux made a short address. This was followed by a speech by Secretary of State James A. Rose, who was present in the place of Governor Yates, who was unable to be there. Mr. Rose reviewed the history of the liberty bell and cited the present instance as one showing that patriotism is not dead. The chorus of children then sang "Illinois," and Miss Pearl Taylor recited the poem, "Liberty Bell." This closed the exercises, but the train and the bell had not arrived and the people settled down for another long wait.

When at 10:30 the train was seen approaching, the crowd made a grand rush for the front of the platform, and some barely escaped injury as the train drew up to the station. Chief of Police Anderson and two policemen had stepped on board the flat car which carried the bell at Jefferson street, but were unable to handle the crowd. When the train stopped Mayor Devereux and Secretary Rose boarded the car and were greeted by Henry Clay, chairman of the liberty bell committee, and John Weaver, mayor of Philadelphia. An endeavor was made by Mayor Devereux and Superintendent of Schools J. H. Collins to have the train stop long enough this morning to allow the school children to see the bell, and it was decided, after a good deal of consideration, that the train should wait until about 9 o'clock this morning before leaving. This was announced to the crowds, but Mayor Weaver and others on the train reconsidered their decision at midnight, giving as their reason that the delay would interfere with plans in St. Louis to day, and the bell left the city this morning at a very early hour.

The flat car on which the bell was carried was fenced in with an iron railing and the bell rested solidly upon two great stanchions which were made for that purpose. A heavy tarpaulin protected it from the weather and Philadelphia policemen protected it from harm and injury. The party accompanying the bell included Mayor and Mrs. John Weaver, of Philadelphia; Judge and Mrs. Norris E. Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Sawyer and many officials.

Prof. D. P. Hollis was elected superintendent of the Griggsville public school at a meeting of the school board in that city recently. Mr. Hollis had already been re-employed as principal of the Perry school, but with the stipulation that he might take a better position should opportunity offer. He was an applicant at the time Bogardus was selected. The position pays $1,000 per annum.—Pike County Republican.
